

The Irish Republic.

LOSSES, Feb. 18.—Evening.—The cause of the Fenian outbreak in the South of Ireland is yet buried in obscurity, the telegraph lines through the disaffected districts are again working. Some say it was caused by the arrest of an American officer, Capt. Moriarty, while others say his prompt arrest prevented a general rising of the Irish.

The British government had news of the affair early on the 12th. An upper servant in the household of Earl of Kenmore had received two anonymous notes stating that a rising was planned in Killarney, and that the leader would reach Killarney from Caherciveen that night—Constables were immediately sent to intercept him.

They met a wagon, on which they found Moriarty, whom they took into custody, and upon searching his person, found letters confirming the assertions contained in the anonymous notice. A courier, named Duggan, was sent to Caherciveen to warn the police. A party of rebels caught him while on the way, and demanded his dispatches, which he refused to give up.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.—About noon on Saturday last, a couple of men were blown up in Houston by the explosion of a shell recently fished out of Buffalo Bayou. It appears that about the time of the "break-up," a large quantity of prepared ammunition for artillery, consisting of shot and shell, were thrown into the bayou. Saturday morning, the tide being very low, a couple of men, formerly members of the 2nd Texas Infantry, succeeded in finding one of these shells. They took it ashore and commenced operations on it with coldhambs and hammers, in order to break it open, when the shell exploded, blowing the men up and horribly mutilating them. One of them had both of his legs blown off, and was otherwise severely injured, while the other had an arm taken off, one side of his head torn to pieces, and a piece of the shell, weighing some eight ounces, was taken out of his side, where it had made an awful incision. When our informant left, the poor unfortunate fellows were under the care of the best surgical talent of Houston, who were doing all in their power to alleviate their sufferings, but no hopes were entertained for their recovery. We were unable to obtain their names, but we understand that they both did good service in the "Lost Cause," and were worthy members of the gallant 2nd Texas. After all the warnings almost daily published in the papers, is it not something strange that people will persist in tampering with old fire arms, shells and the like, when they ought to know that they stand in the greatest danger of losing their lives by so doing?—*Gal. —, who was a gallant officer in a Louisiana regiment, considered that no other troops could march as far, fight as heroically, or bear up under privations as well as Louisianians. His estimation of Georgians was the reverse. Whilst gallantly fighting around Atlanta,—got a hole punched in his abdomen, and sent to the hospital. One of his friends went to hunt him up one day to see how he was getting along. He was all right, he said, although at the time there was little hope for his recovery—the only thing that annoys me is the groaning of the other patients.—There's no Louisiana among them they're all Georgians, confirmed S., and they don't know any better—wait until I'm operate on I'll learn 'em a lesson." The next day S. was bored by a company of bone carpenters, who imagined that his wound had gangrened. The operation was very painful and S.—after holding in until he was half dead with pains, was compelled to utter a doleful groan, which rattled the rafters.

After the operation was finished he exclaimed, "gentlemen, something yeild when that infernal anger was twisted around in me, but it was'nt Louisiana. I've been eating Georgia bacon and cornbread so long that part of my body has turned Georgian. It was Louisiana that hurt so bad, but it was Georgia that hollered."—Baton Rouge Advocate.

The counties of El Paso, in Texas and Dora Ana, in New Mexico, have petitioned Congress for a territorial government. They comprise a scope of about 500 miles in length from east to west, and about 200 miles in width. They have sixteen thousand inhabitants, three fourths of whom are Mexicans. So says a correspondent of the San Antonio Express, who complains that El Paso is recognized by the present State Government only to be punished for loyalty. It also appears that the writer cares very little about a State Government, and wants only the protecting arm and fostering care of the General Government. Still, he ought to be ashamed to be setting an example of "secession" in the midst of professions of loyalty which mean that secession is the root of all political evils.

A New York correspondent of the Mobile Advertiser says Mr. Greeley did not fail to show his disgust at the tone of Henry Ward Beecher's remarks at the late Southern Relief Meeting. The first part of Greeley's speech was so plain a rebuke of Beecher that the whole audience felt it as such, and most of them were gratified. The same writer says no Southern man could have heard Mr. Greeley on that occasion, as he depicted the distress of the Southern people, without conceding him to be an honest, sincere, kind-hearted man.—Galeston News.

It seems that the Imperial Mexican General Miramón has been defeated near Zacatecas, by Gen. Escobedo. The news is so mixed up that we await further accounts. Maximilian is evidently on his last legs. When he is at last driven out, which will be soon, the Liberals themselves will go to pieces and revolution and anarchy reign triumphant.—Telegraph.
